The Fruit of Hard Work...

Success is sweet but there is no shortcut to success. Another Academic year has been completed with year round Scholastic and Co-Scholastic Activities being implemented keeping everyone busy throughout the year. This year has been full of various activities and a lot of events which have kept everyone on their toes. The very nature of a child is simply being active, being engaged and being inquisitive just about everything. The growth of the child cannot be judged through one or two parameters. Apart from physical growth, emotional and social domains, it also needs to be considered to understand the nature of growth. All these areas are essential for a child to develop into a balanced and developed personality. The activities in the school are designed to cater to all these needs of the child.

As the activities are child centered, teachers work on various skills and areas to develop the child. The child also requires support and little push from parents in order to engage the child in the particular activities assigned by teachers for the child or group of students. We ensure that every student gets engaged in various events and activities held for personality development of the child and every child gets a chance to come on stage and perform their role and overcome stage fright. This year was not very different from any other year but every year gives a new chance to every child to learn something new, even from the mistakes that they make. It is necessary that every child is made to realize that every activity and event being conducted in the school for student is important as it is meant for each child, your child and his participation itself is an achievement. As the schooling years are considered the foundational years, the whole future of the students depends upon the basics that become the foundation stones for their career and personality. It is the quality of hard work in every area which will enhance the skills making the child confident and composed to face challenges in the future. We believe that as each child has inborn potentials, each child must be multi-faceted personality ready to become world citizen and every new year is yet a stepping stone towards success. Let's help the students as parents and school to make them explore the best potential within them by giving them a chance to experience the flavour of each activity taken in the school, off course, with the very essential element - hard work. We wish all the best to the students and parents and thank them for their continuous support to the school in every possible way.

The Fruit of Hard Work is a Good Life...
